REED UNABLE TO GET HERE TODAY

HAS CANCELLED HIS SPEAKING DATE FOR MARYVILLE

MAY COME AT LATER DATE

If It is Possible to be Arranged, But His Schedule Now is Filled Until Primary

Senator James A. Reed will not fill his speaking engagement in Maryville this evening on account of being unable to get here from Trenton, where he spoke last evening. In a telegram to James B. Robinson, Senator Reed says:

"High water makes it absolutely impossible to reach Maryville or Conception. I regret this exceedingly. If possible will arrange later date but cannot hold out much hope as I am billed elsewhere until the end of the campaign but if it can be arranged will notify you. I am very sorry. Please advise all our friends. Wish you best of wishes. Very sorry for the disaster which has befallen your county."

Senator Reed was unable to fill his date at Albany last evening on account of the high water. He had a meeting at Trenton last evening at 8 o'clock.

If Senator Reed is unable to speak in Maryville before the primary it was thought efforts would be made to get one of his supporters to come here for an address.

PROFESSOR MILLER READ "ABRAHAM LINCOLN."

State Teachers College Instructor Held Audience Almost Spellbound —Large Crowd

Professor Harry A. Miller read the drama "Abraham Lincoln" in the auditorium of the State Teachers College at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon to the largest audience that has attended any of his readings this summer.

Professor Miller chose selections of the drama which gave unusual insight into the character of Lincoln which are overlooked by the mass of the people.

The interpretation by Mr. Miller held his audience almost spell bound while he portrayed Lincoln in his home dealing with his Illinois neighbors, his acceptance of the nomination for presidency, settling matters of state in Washington, presenting the Emancipation Proclamation to his cabinet, with Grant at the front and his final appearance at the theater where he was assassinated.

The readings previous to this one were held in Room 301 of the State Teachers College but the audience was so large yesterday that it was taken to the auditorium.

Next Wednesday Professor Miller will read "The Hoosier Schoolmaster" and the following Wednesday he will give a lecture reading from selections of the Hoosier Poet.

Between McFall and Gallatin the track is washed out and it will be either Saturday or Sunday before this track is in shape to be run over. Passenger trains No. 11 and 14 have been cancelled until the track is in shape to permit running over it. The Wabash track is still bad in places.

The first train running through to St. Joseph on the Burlington since Sunday was yesterday afternoon. The track between Arkoe and Barnard has been repaired and is now in good shape although the road bed is still a little soft.

The night Burlington train last evening brought a great deal of mail as well as express.

Wabash train No. 3 last evening had a great deal of mail and express. It had eleven trucks of express for Maryville. There were three trucks of mail.

PLATTE RIVER BRIDGE WEST OF CONCEPTION IS OUT

Said to Have Gone Down Yesterday Soon After Some One Had Passed Over It

It is reported this morning that the bridge over the Platte River west of Conception went out or rather settled yesterday so that it cannot be crossed. It is said that it went down just after someone had passed over it.

The road from Conception to Ravenwood is said to be in pretty good shape and that it is possible to travel between the two towns. It is possible to get from here to Ravenwood by making several detours and going considerably out of the way. Some of the larger bridges and culverts along the state road are out.

It was said this morning that the Platte River was still running pretty high.

MAP SHOWS WHERE FLY IS WORST

IS BEING SENT OUT FROM OFFICE OF FARM BUREAU

SOW AFTER OCTOBER 1

Pest Has Been Increasing in Nodaway County for Several Years—Must Be Checked This Fall

The worst infestation by Hessian fly in the county is in the territory northwest of Maryville and north of Elmo, according to a letter which Roy A. Kinnaird, county farm agent, is sending out to the farm bureau members of this county. The letter is accompanied by a map of the county in which the situation is shown by the different marking on the map. Farms on which no Hessian fly have been reported are marked with an "0"; a few in the wheat are indicated by an "f" and serious damage to this years crops are indicated with an "S".

Although the heaviest infestation is found in territory northwest of Maryville and north of Elmo, the most serious damage is found in the fields in the region west of Parnell, east of Arkoe, through the north part of White Cloud township, the south and west part of Polk, the east part of Monroe, a neighborhood northwest of Quitman and in the northwest part of Lincoln township.

Serious damage has been reported in practically every township in the county. It is necessary now, Mr. Kinnaird points out, to prevent the eggs of these flies from hatching out and doing serious damage to the crops next year. Now is the time to act, he says.

His suggestions are:

First, early and deep plowing of wheat stubble, where wheat is to be sown again next year. This will bury the flies which are lying dormant in the stubble.

Secondly, repeated discing during the rest of the summer will prevent volunteer wheat and leave nothing for the flies to breed upon.

Third, and most important of all, is to wait until after October 1 to sow wheat. This will absolutely prevent any serious infestation in the wheat this fall. Even though the flies are able to lay eggs in this late sowed wheat, by reason of the late fall, the little maggots will not be able to develop sufficiently to go through the winter.

To delay sowing until after October 1 is generally recognized as absolutely certain to prevent any serious infestation. Field after field in Nodaway County this year, sowed the first week in October, has escaped damage, while neighboring fields sowed early in September have been seriously damaged.

The general history of these insect outbreaks is that the insects increase in numbers for several years without attracting notice until they are able to reproduce a brood which will do serious damage.

The Hessian flies have been increasing in this county for two or three years. In communities where badly infested fields were found last year, serious damage has been reported this year in the early wheat of the community.

MARYVILLE ON PRIMARY ROAD

NORTHERN POINT OF ONE FROM ST. JOSEPH HERE.

FEDERAL ROAD TO IOWA

Will Run Direct From Maryville—Will Mean Much to Maryville.

Maryville has been selected by the engineers of the state highway commission as the northern point of a state primary road from St. Joseph, through Savannah, Rosendale, and Barnard. A federal primary road starts at the Iowa line near Braddyville, running direct to Maryville, connecting with the state primary road.

Another federal primary road beginning at the Iowa state line in Harrison County and passing through New Hampton, Albany, Stanberry and King City will join the state primary road at Rosendale.

The commission announced yesterday the route of 1,800 miles of "federal primary" road in addition to the 1,500-mile primary road system. The "federal primary" roads, is an interstate connecting system permitted under the federal aid law. The federal roads follows the routes of the secondary roads connecting with through roads in adjoining states.

The basis on which the primary system was adopted was the most direct outes between the chief centers of population, saving mileage and serving the greatest number of people. Each road is to be known by a number and is to be of high type construction as the traffic demands.

The state primary system will be paid for by 29 million dollars of the 60 million dollar bond issue, plus whatever federal aid is allotted to them. The secondary road system, totaling over 7,500 miles, designated by the last legislature, is to receive the balance of the 30 million bond money, plus federal aid. The secondary system is known as the $6,000 a mile road system.

The highway commission beginning July 25 will hold public hearings in Jefferson City before adopting finally the primary road designations. The commission asks that each organization desiring to be heard shall appoint one man to present its arguments.

The public hearings are to be as follows:

July 25—All north and south primary roads.

July 26—All Kansas City, St. Louis east and west connections.

July 27—All other east and west roads.

Smaller cities and road associations not given places on the state primary system are expected to create a furore over the road designation announced. Undoubtedly attempts will be made by court action, or later in the legislature to defeat the entire state road program. However, the highway department is counting on those satisfied with the designation to come forward and aid in upholding the commission.

Following the public hearings late this month the highway commission will enter the final order on the primary road designation. A meeting will be held July 25 with the state fund commission to make preliminary arrangement for the sale of the first installment of this 60 millions of road bonds. The first issue probably will be 3 million dollars of which two millions will go for secondary roads and 1 million for the primary roads.

Theodore Gray, chairman of the way commission, believes the first contracts under the 60-million-dollar road program may be let in August unless attempts are made to tie the commission court proceedings.

Took 160 Acres of His Wheat

Frank DeWitt told us Tuesday afternoon he had just gotten a phone message from Earl McCleave, of Barnard, saying the high waters had washed away 160 acres of his wheat and he expected to see the other 60 acres he has on the bottom ground go before night, the swift current carrying the shocks down stream. He has 100 acres shocked on high ground that is safe. Most of the bottom wheat around Arkoe and Barnard has been washed away.—Hopkins Journal.

FERTILIZING HELPS YIELD OF POTATOES

VOCATIONAL M. H. S. BOYS BUSY WITH PROJECTS

ONE RAISES WATERMELONS

H. G. Tilley Expects a Full Enrollment In Classes This Fall

That the quality of seed potatoes and the time they are put in the ground is a big factor in the yield has been demonstrated this summer by the vocational agriculture class of the Maryville High School, under the direction of H. G. Tilley. A number of the boys of the class chose the potatoes as their project and have out an acre each. In purchasing the seed this spring it was not possible for the class to obtain certified seed, since it was not able to handle a carload lot. The result was, Mr. Tilley says, that an inferior grade of seed was supplied.

Other things brought out in the experiments is that "greening" and fertalizing is a good practice. Where the potatoes were greened by allowing them to sprout and the sprouts to become green before they were planted the yield was doubled. Fertilizing the projects increased the yield from 100 to 400 per cent. Among those with potato projects are Ralph and Leslie Dowden and Thomas Eckert.

But not all the members of the class grew potatoes. They selected various things. Franklin Dowden, near Myrtle Tree Church selected for his project 10 acres of wheat.

The following boys are among those who have corn for their projects: Chester Davison, Roland Evans, Harold Holt, Arthur Hartman and George Murray. The corn projects are looking fine, Mr. Tilley says.

Clement Rickman, Homer Ogden and LeRoy Jones have the soy bean as their project. Each of these boys have 5 acres. It is too early yet to judge as to how much of a crop the soy beans will make but they have made a good start.

Carol Belt is raising an acre of watermelons. He has had a big fight with the bugs but he has won the victory over them and the vines and melons are looking fine now.

Other members of the class are Eldon Dow, Roland Holloway, Harold Roelofson, Raymond Oakerson, John Sewell, Emerson Neff and Edwin McPherron. McPherron lives at Stanberry and Mr. Tilley has not been able to visit his project as yet.

Mr. Tilley says that in the class in vocational agriculture this fall at the high school will be a full one. The facilities will permit the admittance of only about thirty-five members. Those who want to be assured of a membership in the class must enroll early at the beginning of school. Forty students signified their intention of entering the class this fall at the close of the term this spring.

The work done in the class last year was on soils and the propagation of plants. Next year it will be on live stock and their care. The course is arranged so that the two courses alternate. In the school year of 1922 and 1923 the course in soils will be given again. It does not matter which of the two the student takes first. Four units are offered at the high school in vocational agriculture.

Mr. Tilley says that the parents of the boys who are taking vocational agriculture are as much interested in the work in many cases as the boys are. One father told Mr. Tilley that he would not consider leaving his son in the school if it were not for the fact that agriculture is taught here.

During the term next year the students will do work in the shop along the line of making poultry coops, hog shelters, feeders and various other things to be used in the raising of live stock. They will be allowed to select for their projects hogs, cattle, sheep, horses, poultry or bees.

Mr. Tilley is remaining in Maryville this summer visiting the projects of the boys, advising with them regarding the projects and preparing work for the class next year. When school opens in September he will have his year's work all planned and laid out.

TINY HOLE IN TELEPHONE CABLE CAUSES MUCH TROUBLE

Was Discovered by Linemen After a Search of Several Days—Done A Year Ago

Harry Todd, manager of the Hanamo Telephone Company, with his linemen discovered yesterday a tiny hole in the lower side of a cable that has caused several phones in the north part of town to be out of commission for several days. The hole was so small that day light could scarcely be seen through it, after the section was removed. Mr. Todd says that the cable was struck by lightning a year ago near this point and that he believes that the hole was made at that time and that it took a year for the insulation to become soaked to such a state that services were interferred with.

BRIDGE DAMAGE NOT SO GREAT

JUDGE BAILEY SAYS IT WAS WORSE IN 1915

COURT TO SPEND $15,000

This Will Bring Overdraft to Amount To Be Collected for This Year

The damage done to the bridges over the county by the high water Sunday night and Monday will not be as great as was first expected, according to Judge E. T. Bailey, presiding judge of the county court. Judge Bailey said conditions are not as bad as they were in the flood during July 1915.

The northwest and part of the north part of the county reported their bridges to be alright. The bridges in the southeast part of the county were not damaged by the high water. Most of the bridges washed out are in Polk White Cloud, Independence, Union, Hughes and Monroe townships.

$15,000 In Repair Work

Judge Bailey said the court intends to spend about $15,000 to put back the bridges that were washed out and to make repairs. No new bridges will be built unless some means of building them are provided. The court cannot exceed the estimate of $15,000 as that will bring the total amount of the bridge overdrawn fund to about the amount of money which will be collected this fall in taxes for that fund. In other words, the court will have expended all of the expected revenue of the bridge fund, leaving nothing in that fund for next year.

Court On Inspection Trips

The county court made an inspection trip yesterday to the district over the west part of the county over the Elkhorn and Florida creeks. Five 10-foot steel bridges were found to have been washed out and the approach on another bridge was gone. The court made an inspection trip to Union township today. They are also to view bridges in other sections later this week.

Charles Hollensbe was sent by the court to the Mozingo Branch over the state road so that bridge can be put back in. He will be assisted in the work by the neighbors of that community. W. W. Randall is assisting in replacing a bridge on the Elkhorn south and east of Graham. John Hollensbe is on the Mozingo Branch east of Pickering to assist in replacing a washed out bridge.

Asks For Co-Operation

The court asks for the co-operation of the township boards where bridges are out and will furnish an experienced bridge man and also material as far as it will last. Farmers along where these bridges are to be repaired are also requested to co-operate and assist in the work of fixing the bridges.

Won't Sponsor Bond Movement

The county court while in favor of a county bond issue for bridges will not sponsor the movement. The court says the movement will have to come from the people in the form of a petition. If sufficient signers are secured, then the court will call an election for that purpose.

Working In Polk Township

Burt M. Rowley, township trustee has a number of workmen busy in Polk township repairing damage done to the bridges and culverts by the recent high waters. With work done on the bridge over White Cloud, four and a half miles southwest of Maryville, and the cement culvert near the Eugene Lyle farm it is thought that traffic will be opened up as far

OPTIMISM GONE OVER R. R. STRIKE

OFFICIAL WASHINGTON REGARDS MATTER GRAVELY

MAY BE LONG FIGHT

Much Conflict Going on Throughout Country at the Shops—Some are Injured.

Washington, July 13—Official Washington began to lose the optimism about the strike and regard the situation gravely. The shopcrafts telegram to President Harding following Samuel Gompers condemnation to Harding's proclamation and the refusal of the metals trades to repair work on the roads are accepted as positive proof labor is preparing for a long battle.

Washington, July 13—Secretary of War Weeks conferred with the President concerning the railroad strike. The use of Federal troops was discussed and upon leaving the White House Mr. Weeks said that he would have a formal statement later. It is reported that it is contemplated to order all corporals and commanders to hold troops in readiness for immediate action.

Chicago, July 13—The executive council of the shop crafts in replying to President Harding's proclamation sent a telegram charging the railroad labor board partly with violations of the law against the carriers. Willingness of the strikers to effect a just settlement was asserted. Interruptions of commerce and mails will continue until an adjustment is reached.

The telegram charged the board fixed wage scales far beneath a living wages and contends that the employes are within their rights in striking. It stated that Federal Judge Page held the decision of the labor board as merely advisory.

Booneville, Mo., July 13—Scattered shots were fired by the strikers last night around the militia at Camp Franklin Junction. No rioting resulted. It cannot be determined if the fire was directed towards the national guardsmen. Searchlights were employed to detect possible attacks from the strikers.

Jefferson City, Mo., July 13—The Missouri Pacific railroad asked that troops be sent to Poplar Bluff, where it was represented to the Governor that a bad situation exists because the sympathy with the striking oilers, pittmen and stationary engineers are complicating matters. Governor Hyde has taken the request under advisement awaiting information from Poplar Bluff.

Bloomington, Ill., July 13.—Striking Chicago & Alton shopmen were given last pay checks and annual passes were taken up. Deputy federal marshals served injunctions against union officials to prevent intimidation and unlawful picketing.

Oroville, Cal., July 13—Two hundred shots were fired in a battle which was engaged in between the guards of the Western Pacific round house and masked men who attacked the roundhouse. T. Wilkinson, assistant roadmaster, was seriously injured and several others were slightly hurt.

Roodhouse, Ill., July 13—Twelve United States deputies have arrived and are guarding mail trains and other shipments. Today they are paying the men in the shops and taking away their passes and keys.

Washington, July 13—Industrial conditions resulting from the combined railroad and mine strike led to the discontinuance of numerous mail carrying trains the Post Office Department advised.

FIRST "ROAST'N EARS" DID NOT LAST LONG

The first "roast'n ears" of the season appeared on the local markets yesterday. They didn't last very long and many people were disappointed when they got in too late to get part of the first treat of the season. Among those who are reported to have new corn large enought to eat are J. E. O'Neal, Will Moyer and J. B. Trullinger.

The Maryville man who is wearing last season's straw hat is now at ease as it is practically impossible to tell the new vintage from that of last year.

Did you ever see anything funnier than a woman running after a street car?

Uncle Abner, the town philosopher, says the reason so many people in Maryville are in debt is because so many stores permit charge accounts.

A remark never heard—"I am going to sue the paper for libel. The editor has exaggerated my character to the point of flattery."

If you wish to get the minimum male enthusiasm listen for dad's cheers when the family suggests a picnic Sunday. Poor father pictures himself laden with baskets in the blazing sun trying to find a spot that satisfies a dozen persons each with a distinctively different idea.

The reason so many men's minds wander is because they can't afford to let their bodies do it.

It often happens a man's friends benefit more from his vacation than the man does himself in that it gives them a vacation from his presence.

Our stenographer says she did not enjoy the picnic the other night as there was not a single ant or bug in anything she was served.

July is one of the unlucky months in which to get married. "There are eleven others," remarked a cynical Maryville bachelor who overheard the expression.

It is all right for a fast horse to attempt to lower his record but when a man attempts the same thing it is a different question.

We heard it remarked the other day that a husband and wife should give and take. The husband usually gives and the wife takes as near as we can observe.

If you ever stop a minute

CRAZY?

The following is taken from this weeks Radio, the publication of the Men's Bible Class of the Christian Church:

Every now and again, I see full grown men
That I have considered as wise,
Chase a little white pill over valley and hill,
They say, "just for exercise."
They ride out in a car, although it's not far,
So without any if's and's or but's,
I can't help but say, I see no other way,
Than it's simply a plain case of "nuts."

If it IS exercise, that these grown up guys
Are trying so hard now to find,
They might try a plow, or a good warm hay mow,
Or something else of that kind.
But to walk forty blocks, in their short pants and socks,
To knock a ball over the ruts,
It just seems to me, as plain as can be,
It's simply a case of "nuts."

There is nobody around, anywhere, I've found,
That thinks more of the Parson than me,
But this game of golf has gotten him off,
Of the sane reservation, I see.
And there's Ellis G. Cook, with his little rule book,
(I can prove what I say by John Mutz)
Another golf crank is Mr. Arch Frank,
And the whole caboodle's gone "nuts."

Then there is Dick Strong, a good man gone wrong,
Over this fool game of golf,
And the first thing you know, poor old Jerry will go,
And be everlastingly "off."
Even Beal Roseberry, though sane ordinary,
You should see the capers he cuts,
All I can say is, "The Devil's to pay,
It's simply a case of 'nuts.'"

STOP! LOOK! LISTEN!

There's just three verses in this rhyme
You begin to read at the top,
And when you get to the very last word,
Why then is the time to STOP.

When the sweet summer students are going by,
Carrying a parasol and book,
And you have nothing else to do,
Why then is the time to LOOK.

At the tent on Sunday morn at ten,
While the bright dew drops still glisten,
It is then the PARSON makes his talk
Why then is the time to LISTEN.

Finds Women Poor Mimics Of Men In Smoking

"Women are inexperienced smokers," said the head waiter in a large New York hotel. "They are excellent imitators of men as a rule, but this is one case where they have fallen down. Seldom do I see a man sit down to a table and light a cigaret before his meal is brought on the table unless there is no food in prospect. He generally craves a smoke after a hearty meal. Nearly every woman who smokes takes out her cigaret case just as soon as she comes into the dining room; in other words, as soon as she is sure of an audience. This proves women haven't an inborn taste for smoking. It's a common sight when there is a party of four at the table, to see the two women smoking and the men looking on as if they were trying to set a good example by abstinence."

KNOWN AS DO-NOTHING CONGRESS

EVEN REPUBLICAN LEADERS AND PRESS ADMIT IT

CAMPAIGN LITERATURE

For Democrats Are Being Made by Party Officials and Party Spokesmen

By RICHARD LINTHICUM
(Special Correspondence)

Washington, July 13—Aside from the issues created by Republican policy and lack of Republican policy, some of the most valuable contributions to Democratic campaign literature are being made party officials, party spokesmen an party press. Indeed the Democrats would have a great store of campaign ammunition even if they relied solely upon the amount contributed by these Republicans. For instance no indictment the Democrats could draw against the present Republican Congress could be any stronger than the one drawn by Secretary of War Weeks when he said that this Congress had reached the lowest ebb of any in the history of the country.

It was a Republican member of this Congress who fastened upon it the title of the Do-Nothing Congress—Representative William R. Wood of Indiana, who on November 17 last, on the floor of the House declared that "Everybody is giving this Congress hell." "They are doing it," said he, "because we have done nothing to stimulate business. They are doing it because we have done nothing to give employment to the unemployed. They are doing it because we have done nothing to benefit the farmer and to stimulate the price of the farmers' products."

Representative Wood has since been made Chairman of the Republican Congressional Committee, charged with the re-election of the very Congress he characterized as a Do-Nothing Congress.

The Boston Transcript, a leading Rep. paper of New Eng., says this is "the worst Congress in twenty years" and "does not deserve re-election."

The two major administration measures before this Congress have been Tax Revision and the Tariff. The Tax Revision bill apparently has pleased nobody, and the late Senator Penrose declared it to be a "makeshift" and said the work would all have to be done over again. With this view Senator Smoot, who becomes Chairman of the Finance Committee when Senator McCumber defeated for re-nomination, retires next March, agreed and declared that there would be no tax reduction for a number of years, despite the fact that members of his party were claiming a heavy reduction in taxes in the present Act. It will be recalled that fifty odd Republicans of the House voted to recommit the fill for further amendment, thus expressing their dissatisfaction with it.

On the pending tariff bill many of the ablest Republicans in the Senate and practically all of the influential Republican press are opposing it in one form or another, and in most cases openly denounce it. Even the proponents of the bill are supporting it in a half-hearted manner, and would like nothing better than to throw it out the window, but it is an administration bill, urged by the President to keep faith with the special interests which supply campaign funds to the Republican organization, and inas much as these interests were disappointed in the tax revision bill they are insisting that the tariff bill shall be put through.

Senator McCumber (Rep. N. Dak.) in charge of the bill says: "We have often been advised, and the advice is well founded that of all times in our history this is the very worst time to formulate and put into effect a new tariff measure."

Senator Frelinhuysen (Rep. N. J.) who helped frame the bill says: "I hold that it is not scientific because of the system on which it is based."

Senator Cummins (Rep. Iowa) says "I think this is the most inopportune time of all times I have ever known to enact a general revision of the tariff law. If I could have had my way I would have allowed the existing tariff law (Underwood-Simmons law) to remain as the general law upon the subject."

Senator Townsend (Rep. Mich.) says: "I recognize the fact that this is about the most unfavorable time imaginable to revise the tariff."

Senator Leuroot (Rep. Wis.) says: "If rates like this are to be written in the bill in any great number, I shall be relieved of any obligation to support it."

Columns and pages could be quoted from the leading Republican papers of the country in denunciation of this measure, which the New York Herald (Rep.) calls "dam fool protection."

The Senate of the United States has a Republican majority of nearly 2 to 1. In closing his great speech on the Newberry case the then Senator Kenyon (Rep. Iowa) now a United States circuit judge, said; "My God, you never can lower the dignity of the Senate after today."

Now this same Senator Kenyon is warning the progressive of his party and the pubile generally against the widespread movement in the Republican party to abolish the primary system.

Now come Senator Medill McCormick (Rep. Ill.) Chairman of the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee, defining the attitude of his party's contempuous discrimination against women as candidates for office. In a recent interview Chairman McCormick said:

"Persons might vote for a woman for superintendent of schools or for the town council or other little jobs like that, but when it comes to the Senate of the United States they simply will not do it."

In other words, Senator McCormick arraigned the women of the country as incompetent, unfit and therefore ineligible to hold an office such as he himself holds, and he himself is speaking as Chairman of the official body charged with the election of Republican Senatorial candidates.

In addition to all this, Senator Capper of the Agricultural Bloc is demanding the resignation of Secretary Weeks, the Republican press is demanding the resignation of Attorney-General Daugherty and there are sporadic demands for the resignation of Secretary of the Interior Fall, all having a sound basis in facts.

There is no end to the illustrations of the various kinds of campaign material that prominent Republicans are supplying of the most injurious character to their party in the coming campaign.

The Burglar

THIS HANDSOME GENTLEMAN constitutes one of the monstrosities that prey upon civilization and most often on those who keep money and valuables hidden about their homes instead of using the services of a good bank.

This is the thief in the night.

But this is only one thing that robs people. They often rob themselves by not saving part of their money, or by foolish investments, when a little care and thought and a little help from a substantial financial institution would save them from losses and give them independence in old age.

Others are robbed of just inheritance by neglect in making wills and appointing reliable executors for estates, or the selection of a strong trust company whose officers are willing and anxious to help people in arranging the settlement of their estates.

These are only a few of the "burglars" that a bank is able to forestall, and this bank of personal service believes it part of its duty to safeguard its customers from loss and help them to accumulate funds by savings, wise investments and proper administration of estates.

Bull Attacks John Gailey

One of the Hopkins truckmen, John Gailey, met with an experience Monday morning that caused his hair to stand on end. While out in the Fay Sheley pasture, a Jersey bull decided that he would whip him even if John is a big man so he took after him. John had nothing with which to defend himself so he made a run for the barbed wire fence, going over same like a hurdle horse—so did the bull—and it was back and forth four times. Finally John got hold of a club and by vigorously using the same, beat off the infuriated animal and made his escape unhurt except for wire scratches. This is the reason he was wearing his Sunday clothes Monday evening—not enough of his old ones being left to flag a bread wagon.—Hopkins Journal.

FORMER MARYVILLE MAN SAYS STRIKE WILL BE ONE OF BIGGEST

The Rev. W. B. Christy of the M. E. Church at Hannibal, Mo., formerly of Maryville writes E. L. Wolfert about the railroad strike in Hannibal. Rev. Christy says:

"We are in the throes of the big strike here. I have just returned from a meeting of the strikers. I delivered the address before the assembly. The situation is acute. No violence but the situation is very critical There are about 800 strikers here. The strikers have boats patrolling the river, pickets scattered along the railroads in every direction. A number of trains have been discontinued and probably more will be. I think this will be one of the biggest strikes within the history of this country. Both sides are very determined. Nothing to indicate that the end is in sight."

After using a few boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills the pains let up and the feeling of languor disappeared. My health improved generally." (Statement given October 2, 1912).

FUNERAL FOR REV. JOHN J. JERMAIN AT CONCEPTION

Religious Services Presided Over by The Rt. Rev. Mons. James P. Brady—Was Born in Jefferson

It was a great shock to the Jefferson township community to hear last Monday morning the few words which were flashed over the storm damaged telephone system; "Father John Jermain, of Milan, Mo., was killed last night by an electric wire." Only on June 13 Rev. Jermain participated in our Nodaway County Catholic Day as one of the speakers. His two brothers, Joseph and Benedict Jermain, of this place left at once for Milan to bring the corpse home. It arrived at Conception station Wednesday morninging and was brought to the home of the mother of the deceased priest, Mrs. Mary Jermain, who lives at Old Conception. From there the funeral was held this morning, the services commencing at the Abbey Church at 9:00 a. m., after the corpse had been conveyed in solemn procession from the house of Mrs. Jermain to the church. The religious services were presided over by the Rt. Rev. Mons. James P. Brady, administrator of the diocese of St. Joseph, who like Rev. John Jermain was born and raised here. Quite a number of secular priests, not to say anything of those at the Abbey, were present at the prayers for the dead, the solemn Pontifical Requiem High Mass celebrated by Mons. J. P. Brady, and the funeral which was conducted by the brother of the deceased priest, the Rev. George Jermain of Des Moines, Iowa. The interment took place in the Jermain lot in St. Columba's cemetery. It was a sad moment to stand at the grave of such a good and zealous priest, called away from us in his best years, in the very midst of his activities, having had just commenced the building of a new, fine church at Milan.

Sad was also the death of good Father Jermain. Sunday morning he had been on one of his Missions, said holy Mass there, preached and gave the Benediction with the Blessed Sacrament, as usual, and in the evening left for home on the train which arrived at Milan after 11:00 p. m. It was raining and the night was very dark, and it seems that on that account there was no conveyance at the depot. Therefore Father Jermain walked from the station to his home. But about two blocks from the church he came in contact with an electric light wire, on the sidewalk, hanging from one of the street lamps already a day or two without being fixed. This wire coiled around the hand of the walking priest, of which it burned off several fingers, then wound itself around his body and left ugly spots on it. At the first contact the priest was knocked down. His moans were heard by people in the houses near by, but were not paid attention to. At last some men stepped over to where he laid, but did not dare to touch him until the light plant had been turned off. By that time the priest, who was, it seems, unconscious from the start, was beyond hopes and died about 30 minutes after the accident.

Rev. John Jermain was born in Jeftownship of Nodaway County, Mo., on February 24, 1878 of Mathias and Mary Jermain. He made his classical studies at Conception College, and finished his theological course at Kenrick Seminary, St. Louis, Mo. His ordination to the priesthood occured at Conception on June 15, 1902. Most of the time since he spent at Milan, Mo., in charge of the Catholic church of that place. About two years ago his Bishop wished to give him a better and easier parish at Monroe City, but Father Jermain remained there only a few months, and returned again to his beloved people at Milan, where everybody, non-Catholics as well as Catholics, esteemed him most highly.

Father Jermain is survived by his widowed mother, the three brothers above mentioned, and Miss Rose Jermain who kept house for him, and another sister, who joined the Benedictines Sisters in Washington as Sr. Lucy. R. I. P.

JOHN BUSBY HAD HEAVY LOSS FROM FLOODS

John Busby seven miles southwest of here had seven head of cattle washed away by the flood water of White Cloud. All of them have been returned except one calf. The cattle were registered shorthorns. He lost a hog and some of his chickens and practically all of his wheat and oats were ruined. About twenty cords of wood were also washed from his farm.

EUGENE V. DEE'S HEALTH IS SHATTERED BY PRISON.

Chicago, July 13.—The health of Eugene V. Debs, socialist leader, is said to be in such a shattered state, resulting from worry while serving his prison term, that he has engaged a room in a sanitarium here. Debs, who is due here now, is said to have left his home at Terre Haute under care of friends.

LOCAL TRAINS TAKEN OFF ON ACCOUNT OF THE STRIKE

Two passenger trains, Nos. 50 and 51 between Stanberry and Council Bluffs, have been annulled for the present on account of strike conditions.

The Wabash has taken off several train, twelve being taken off at the Moberly branch.

"This Company is unable to secure a supply of coal sufficient to permit it to continue to operate all of its existing passenger trains. It has 2453 cars of coal due on orders, a number of the orders dating back to April 22nd In the past week only ten per cent of the amount of coal consumed has been received and the supply of storage coal on hand is being so materially and quickly reduced that in order to conserve the supply and to enable it to operate important freight and passenger trains, effective Wednesday, July 12th a number of passenger trains will be discontinued until further notice, and unless a further supply of coal is received; more material reductions in service will have to be made."

ODD FELLOWS TO INSTALL MONDAY NIGHT AT HOPKINS

Installation of Odd Fellows officers to serve during the next six months will be held at Hopkins Monday night. George T. Wray will be installed as noble grand and William T. Orme as Vice-noble grand. BRIDGE DAMAGE NOT SO GREAT as the townsnip line to the southwest.

Lumber will be hauled from Graham to the White Cloud bridge and workmen will probably begin work there tomorrow. The center span of the bridge is about forty feet and is built of steel. Both ends of the bridge were washed out and at one end there is so much wood drifted around the bridge that it is thought that it will be necessary to dynamite it out.

The place where the cement culverts near the Eugene Lyle farm was washed out will be repaired by a fill which it is thought will be completed today so that traffic can pass that way, after today.

A bridge of about fifty feet span was repaired yesterday near the Ernest Lyons farm southwest of Maryville. Workmen of the neighborhood worked on repairing this bridge yesterday and the township furnished the piling and planks for the work.

An approach to a twenty foot bridge east of the Union School near the Joseph Fogan farm was washed out. Work began on repairing this bridge today and it is thought that it will be finished by this evening.

A bridge which is out of place over Canal Branch, on the Pickering road five miles north of here, will be fixed today. Work on the Mozingo bridge near Bedison was begun today by workmen for the county.

FINED FOR DRIVING CAR OVER BARRIER AT COLLEGE

Chas. Gross was fined $5 and costs in police court last night for driving a motor car over and defacing a barrier on the drives at the State Teachers College.

Miss Mary Marshall of the State Teachers College and Homer Stall of Kansas City were week-end guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Doyle King near Pickering.

WORK OF REPAIRING STREETS IS BEING CARRIED ON

Washout on North Main Street Was Due to Bursting of a Sewer Sunday Night.

Four crews of men are busy doing repair work on the street and sewers of the city. Work on the street near the Wabash overhead bridge is progressing nicely. The sewers have been replaced at this point and the curbing is braced and they are ready to begin filling in. Mayor Robinson said this afternoon that if anyone who had a surplus of cinders, bricks, dirt, old plastering or anything which would be good to go in the fill he would be glad to have them dump it into the wash on the east side of the street, just north of the Wabash bridge.

It was found that the wash on the fill on North Main street at a point further north of the Wabash bridge was due to the sewers bursting during the rain the other night. The weeds have been cut along that fill so that the people can see how narrow and dangerous passage is at this point.

Work is being done repairing the culverts which caved in near the Oak Hill cemetery. It was begun yesterday and will probably be finished tomorrow. The culvert is passable today.

Although C. J. Colden was in San Diego on a short recreation trip, that fact did not defeat him for election to the office of president of the San Pedro Chamber of Commerce, last night, as that organization decided unanimously to retain him in his present position another year.

HEALTH OFFICERS UNABLE TO REACH CONCEPTION YESTERDAY

Drove in Mud Almost to Running Board for a Time and at Last Had to Come Back

The county health officers decided yesterday afternoon to attempt to get to Conception for the clinic at that place. They got as near as the Platte River and had to turn back to Maryville. They said that the roads and culverts were in bad condition between here and there. In one place there was a long strip of road where they drove in mud almost to the running board expecting to be stuck almost every moment. Culverts which were not out were in such a condition that a car was required to do a letter S to get across them.

Daniel H. Cary has brought suit against the Home Insurance Company of New York for $1,600 which he alleged was his loss in a fire which destroyed his home and furniture.
